Dear Brothers and Sisters,

Don't you think it's time to wake up already?

You tell me if this makes sense. Just in the last two weeks, a portion of the sudden tragedies in our community:

An 18 year old bochur had a stroke, he should have a refuah shlaima bekarov and live and be well.

A 21 year old girl had a cerebral hemorrhage on a trip to Poland and passed away.

A young man passed away suddenly at a family simcha.

A Rosh Yeshiva in his prime died suddenly.

And going back about about one week more, a young 42 year old beloved community member had a sudden fatal heart attack.

Three of those, I know had taken the experimental new gene therapy shot. The others, we can only make an educated guess that they did, based on circumstances.

Now, I know some people will probably get angry, which I really don't understand. If we knew there was a kashrus problem with a product, we would see alerts posted all over the place. Our nation values doing the right thing, following halacha, and saving lives. So, if a bunch of people who just took or probably took an experimental product have died unexpectedly, why would you get angry at me for pointing that out? It's weird, I don't get it, but people tend to get very mad. You're not supposed to say that someone died from the new "vaccine."

But you tell me. Did kids used to get strokes and heart attacks?

Did young and middle aged healthy people used to drop dead from one minute to the next on a large scale?

What you see in the Jewish community is a microcosm of the world at large. Newspapers from all over the world now have stories all the time about firefighters, healthcare workers, local teenagers, community figures, or famous entertainers suddenly dying. Do you know that there are 800 athletes who have died worldwide since the vax started? Every few weeks they update the link and the number shoots up. This isn't normal! Used to be, an average of 29 athletes died per year, and nobody remembers sports players dropping dead in middle of the game, until now. Now it's 800 in a year and a half! Remember, they were forced to get vaccinated.

Four life insurance companies have reported an unprecedented rise in claims for working age people, 18-64 years old. For example, Lincoln National says that in 2019, the year before covid, they paid out $500 million in death benefits, and in 2020, during covid, that rose slightly to $548 million. However, in 2021, they have paid out $1.4 billion in claims- an increase of 163% over 2020. Think about what this means.

Casket companies are saying that their sales are like never before, both for adults as well as kid-size. Hospital nurses are reporting cardiac arrests and cancers on a scale they never experienced in their careers. They frequently have to rush the crash cart from one code to the next without time to restock it in between. Hospitals have purchased extra crash carts. A cancer center that normally saw 250 patients now has 1,000 and has no capacity to treat them all.

A study from Israel based on data from emergency services and published in Nature, shows a greater than 25% increase in cardiac arrests linked to the covid shots. Data from England shows that the all-cause death rate is up to 6 times higher among covid vaxxed than unvaxxed people.

The media can't ignore the huge rise in deaths, so they've come up with the most ridiculous explanations for them. For example, hot weather, or cold weather. Or coffee. Or bacteria in the soil. Or working too hard shoveling snow, or making your bed. I'm serious.

What's even more sad is that we knew this was coming. Top world scientists and doctors who understood the truth and had the courage TOLD us that the covid shots would injure the heart, brain, and other organs, ruin the immune system, cause the body to attack itself, and cause sudden death, even long after injection. And that every additional shot would just make things worse. This has all come true, but too many people still don't connect the dots. You can have a previously healthy young person get a heart attack or stroke months after their shot, and no one realizes why. You see people a month after their booster overcome with weakness and fatigue, sick and unable to move or function. They're poisoned and their immune system is destroyed. This is what the expert doctors told us would happen, and it's going on all over the place now, and yet most people still aren't making the connection.

I have spent the last year and a half trying to warn people. But most are too busy with their daily lives to pay any attention. This should be the biggest story in the entire world. It threatens the lives of every one of us. And yet I can hardly get anyone to hear. Just like in Hungary in 1942 or 1943, people have better things to do than listen to someone warning that their life is in danger.

I have brought the biggest experts in the world to speak to you. There should have been tens of thousands of people in attendance. But G-d has covered your eyes, and it is so painful to watch.

You may not realize that there is an evil, planned population reduction agenda going on, by wicked elites who have been planning this meticulously for decades. This agenda comes from very, very high up, from the United Nations, the World Health Organization, the World Economic Forum, and the most powerful people in the world, who control the media and governments. They have done everything to suppress the truth and cause most doctors and community leaders to believe the shots are safe, effective, and very important. All this is documented. None of it is "conspiracy theory". If it only it were just a theory and not real.

It's all too real, but you don't want to believe it. Your emotional need to feel safe limits your ability to imagine the evil. You don't want to believe that people could be so bad. You forgot that at the Seder we say "b'chol dor vador omdim aleinu l'chaloseinu v'Hakadosh Baruch Hu matzileinu miyadam". You forgot that the Torah teaches us that Amalek, our arch enemy, will never stop fighting Hashem until Mashiach comes. Please pause and think about what that means. It's real. Those aren't just words. This is what we're seeing. This is Amalek fighting Hashem. They aren't playing around. They mean to kill. If you can wake up and understand that, you can save your life and the lives of others.

Listen to this quote from the book "All But My Life" by Holocaust survivor Gerda Weissman Klein. She said: "Why did we walk like meek sheep to the slaughterhouse? Why did we not fight back? What had we to lose? Nothing but our lives. Why did we not run away and hide? We might have had a chance to survive. Why did we walk deliberately and obediently into their clutches? I know why. Because we had faith in humanity. Because we did not really think that human beings were capable of committing such crimes."

What is a more evil crime than killing a helpless baby, and wiping out their future, and the future of our nation? Do you know that stillbirths, miscarriages, and birth defects are way, way up since the vax rollout? Do you know that an Israeli study that just came out recently found that one out of five men were left sterile 5 months after their covid shots? Are you aware that many countries around the world are showing an unprecedented drop in their birthrates for the first quarter of 2022, which is 9 months after the vax rollout to young people? For example, Taiwan, which is heavily vaxxed, had a 23% drop in their birthrate. That's unheard of. Even comparing areas of the same country to each other, in Hungary, the 5 most vaccinated counties had a bigger drop in birthrate than the 5 least vaccinated counties.

Why doesn't the media tell us this? Doesn't it make you angry that the things that are most important to our lives and our future are kept hidden?

What about the Pfizer trial data? Do you know that the FDA and Pfizer were trying to keep Pfizer's internal documents secret for 75 years? It took a lawsuit by Attorney Aaron Siri which resulted in a court order to disclose them. A team of 3,000 experts have spent months poring over the 55,000 documents, and the information they've uncovered is horrific.

Some of what they found is this:

The shots were approved for pregnant women based on a trial of 44 rats for 42 days. They did not even wait for the rats to give birth before ending the trial, rather they removed the rat fetuses to study them.

While they told the public that the mRNA and lipid nanoparticles and spike protein would stay at the injection site, in the Pfizer documents we see that they knew from a study that these were found gathered in high concentrations in various organs 48 hours after vaccination, and especially in the ovaries. We don't know how long the toxic materials remained in high concentrations in the organs, because they didn't study that basic question.

By December 2020, Pfizer KNEW that the shots didn't work, and that one side effect of getting "vaccinated" was getting covid. By February 28, 2021, only two months after the rollout, Pfizer knew that there were 42,086 people who reported adverse events from the shots, for a total of almost 160,000 injuries, and 1,223 people had died. Four of the people who died, died on the day they were injected. There are thousands of types of illnesses reported as a result of the shot, affecting all parts of the body, and filling 8 and a half closely typed pages. All this, Pfizer KNEW. IT'S IN THEIR OWN DOCUMENTS, marked "confidential". The FDA knew it, too. The FDA asked the court to keep the documents hidden for 75 years.

And of course, Pfizer and the FDA played dumb and continued vigorously promoting the shots, as deaths mounted. They still are promoting them.

You can go to dailyclout.io to see much, much more, including the Pfizer documents themselves.

Don't think I'm only telling you things I read about. I have personal knowledge of the serious injuries and deaths as well. I'm in touch with dozens of victims or family members and know stories of dozens more in the Jewish community.

I am in contact with Stephanie DeGaray, the mother of Maddie, the 12 year old girl severely injured in Pfizer's clinical trial. She was healthy before. After her second shot, she became violently ill. She's now in a wheelchair, can't feel from her waist down, can't swallow, has a feeding tube, and neurological problems. But Pfizer pretends she doesn't exist. They lied on the trial report and listed her reaction as basically a stomachache.

Now, can you imagine, this is the same killer shot that the FDA voted unanimously last month to give to 6 month old babies, who aren't even in any danger from covid to begin with.

You need to know the truth about the baby and little kids' trial that the FDA and CDC based their authorization on. 4,500 kids were in the trial, and 3,000 of them dropped out. You need to ask why. What harms came to those 3,000 children that made their parents pull them out? We don't know. What about the efficacy of the shot? The vaccine did not show any benefit to the kids, but rather, it increased covid infection overall. In fact, after the first shot, and after the second, many more children in the vaccine group got covid than in the placebo group. Additionally, 11 out of the 12 kids who got covid twice were vaccinated, and the only child who got sick enough to go to the hospital was a vaccinated child.

So how did they possibly justify approval of the shots? The way they manipulated the data was, they ignored 97% of the covid cases in the trial, and they cherry picked the covid case count only after 3 shots. They make a claim of efficacy based on a difference of just 4 kids less (if we even trust their data) who got covid after 3 shots. Should we laugh or cry? Is this what science has come to in the United States? The entire world should be injecting their kids with a brand new gene therapy for a disease that isn't dangerous to them anyway because of a difference of 4 kids less who got covid after 3 shots?

Are parents being fully informed of what the FDA authorization for the kids is based on so they can decide for themselves? Of course not.

I spoke to a pediatrician a couple nights ago, and she told me how medical decision making is supposed to work. The doctor normally informs the patient of various possible treatment options, and outlines the risks and benefits of each one, and the patient decides what they'd like to do. Have you seen any of that happen around the covid shots? Do you know any doctor who sits down a patient and says, well, you could get the shot, but this is how many have died or suffered heart attacks, paralysis, blindness, etc afterwards. Here are all the possible injuries that are documented that you might get from the shot. Here is the data on how poorly it actually works and how soon it wears off, and the increase in covid infection that's seen when people get injected. On the other hand, here are the actual risks of contracting covid and getting very sick with it, or dying (really quite low, contrary to the propaganda otherwise.) Here are treatments that, when taken right away, will cut the risk down to just about zero. So, you make the choice.

Do you know any doctor or clinic administering the shots who does that? Of course not.

But that's called informed consent. It's basic medical ethics. The doctors can't do it, because they don't even know the real risks and real data about the shot. The CDC and medical boards are certainly aren't providing the information, and if the doctors do have some idea, most are too scared to say anything, because anyone who tries to speak the truth is persecuted and often threatened with losing their license. Do you realize what this means? All these doctors that everyone points to and says "tens of thousands of doctors say to get vaccinated" - well, all those doctors count as only one vote, because they didn't do an independent study of the vaccine. They just rely on the information the CDC feeds them.

There ARE some doctors brave enough to think independently, though. I read a very inspiring article about an army physician, Lt. Colonel Dr. Pete Chambers, who saw the shots being given to soldiers on his base, right in the beginning, when they were voluntary. He asked, where's the informed consent? They said, we're not doing that. So he said, I will. He asked for the package insert from the injections. They brought it to him and it was blank. So he hired someone to do the research, found out the risks, and started giving the soldiers proper information to make their own decision. Of course, only a few of them still wanted the shots once they heard the truth. The doctor got in big trouble and had to take early retirement. But I'm sure he doesn't regret for a moment the lives he saved.

Why can't we be like him? The Jewish people are supposed to be the light unto the nations. That doctor should have been us. Every single one of our doctors. Every single one of our Rabbis. They all should have said, something doesn't add up. There's no medical treatment without risks, let me find out the risks, and see if they're justified. We know the manufacturer must be biased, because they're profiting from sales, so who oversaw the trials? (The answer is that Pfizer oversaw their own trials.) And we know that new medical products always go through many years of testing to be sure they're safe, because problems can develop long term, so how would it be OK according to Jewish law to take a brand new product, contrary to rulings of great Rabbis of previous generations who said to wait until a product is proven safe for years? Basic questions, that if you start asking, you start bumping into the unpleasant truth. THAT is the minimum that was expected of us.

People I talk to can't figure out why our community was so gullible. It's getting embarrassing. People say "I thought the Rabbis were smarter than that" or "I can't believe that Israel, of all nations, after what they went through, just lined up to take an experimental shot." Takkeh. Indeed. What is the answer to these questions? That a makkas choshech, a plague of darkness, has overtaken the entire world, including the Jewish people and our leaders? That the evil powers who have planned this, have done such a good job, that they knew exactly the key people they needed to influence in order to get most of our nation to get injected?

Is there anyone in our generation who believes he is greater than the Avos, Avraham, Yitzchak, and Yaakov, the Shvatim, or Moshe Rabbeinu, that he could not err? Or Dovid Hamelech? The Torah lays bare the mistakes of all these towering righteous individuals. The Torah also teaches us the teshuva, the repentance process, for a leader who has made a mistake and led the people astray.

It is time for every doctor, community leader, and Rabbi who promoted this killer shot to get up and admit his mistake to the community and to the world. It is time for every employer who forced his workers to get injected to get up and apologize publicly. It's time for every healthcare provider who administered the vaccine to repent.

How anyone can make amends to people who have become disabled, sterilized, or died, I am not sure. But at least, you can make a start by saying, I erred terribly. I should not have promoted or injected or coerced something whose safety I had no personal knowledge of. You can still salvage something by publicly warning now about the dangers. You can save the babies and little kids, whom the government is planning to mandate to get injected in order to attend school. You can save the college students and employees who are now being threatened with termination of their education or work if they don't get a booster. I get phone calls from these people.

Yes, this is going on now. People think it's over. It's NOT over. It's actually just the beginning of a terrible agenda of control and depopulation, which we must all unite to resist with all our might. You can see my article about the awful things people are now subjected to in China. That is what they want it to be like here, but worse. Most people don't even know that New York State Democrat Governor Kathleen C. Hochul quietly put in place a regulation allowing her to lock up at home or in a quarantine camp, anyone that she simply suspects of being a public health threat, without due process. That means, no chance to prove what she's saying isn't true. And the camps are already built.

So we have no choice. We HAVE to speak up! And if you put your job at risk by talking the truth, so be it. Let it be a kapara, an atonement, for not speaking up earlier.

I am aware that some people have been blinded by money. For example, doctor's offices are paid very significant sums to offer the vaccine to their patients. The exact amount depends on the size of their practice. One doctor I know, who turned it down, would have been paid half a million dollars had he agreed to give the covid shot in his office. Also, under the American Rescue Plan, the government has given millions to various community health centers to promote vaccination in their areas. You can look up online how much your local healthcare center got. You'll find that Ezras Choilim got close to $4 million, Ezra Medical Center got over $4 million, Chemed got over $7 million, and Refuah Health got close to $12 million. How is anyone who got this money thinking clearly about whether these injections are actually good for their community? I know that two of these health centers said they would be giving the poison to babies 6 months old and up.

My message to the community is, call the clinics and tell them your feelings about this. To the people who run these places, I would say, do teshuva publicly! Repent while you still can.

If there is anyone who hears this message and wants to help save our people and humanity, I need your help. If I had funds to advertise adequately, we could inform and save so many more people, who are still unaware of the truth. Just imagine, every thousand dollars invested in an advertisement now, which might save people from getting the poisonous injection, can save hundreds of thousands of dollars later needed in donations to Bonei Olam for fertility treatments or to RCCS for cancer patients. Actually, someone I know got a call from RCCS recently asking for a donation, and they told him that requests for help for cancer patients have tripled this year.

This is very, very important for every "vaccinated" person, as it could save their lives from surprise blood clots, strokes, and heart attacks, chas veshalom. Your health is precious. You can't do anything without it. If you're relatively young and healthy, you might not realize how easy it is to lose. You also might not know that the Torah forbids injecting anything into the body without a compelling health reason. You might not realize that the Shulchan Aruch clearly states that if two doctors warn that something is dangerous, you have to heed their warning and refrain, even if a hundred doctors say it's safe. Our bodies aren't our own to risk. Hashem loaned them to us as a vessel for our souls here on earth, so that we can serve Him. We have to take great care to remain healthy. He does not permit us to harm our bodies. Remember that He owns the world and will support you in a different way if you give up your job or schooling in order to stay safe by turning down the poison jab.

Perhaps we have gotten to this low point, where so many have fallen into the terrible trap already, and so many lives have been lost, because too many people do not have an adequate personal relationship with Hashem. When someone is connected to G-d and thinks about Him and speaks to Him throughout the day, and studies works like Mesilas Yesarim and Chovos Halevavos, the person is more likely to reflect deeply what Hashem truly wants from him in each situation, and not abandon his inner wisdom, his instincts, and his critical thinking skills.

Let us all try to strengthen our connection to our Creator, and pray for the salvation of humanity. We are in the fight of all times, the battle against evil itself. The world is hurtling towards disaster as Emes, truth, which is the Seal of HaKadosh Boruch Hu, of G-d, has been denigrated and is no longer a value to much of humanity. The foundations of the world are crumbling as the worst sins are being normalized, legalized, and considered virtues. We MUST speak up! We MUST cry out for the honor of G-d, and to save the world.

We did not choose to be born in this generation, but Hashem put us here, now for a purpose. That means that we can find it within ourselves to be up to the task, if we try. This is the last stand of the Satan. We are being tested. We need to come out strong and loud and clear on the side of Hashem. The dangers are huge and are coming at us from many directions, but Hashem has the salvation at hand. We need to recognize how badly we need His help, and ask for it.
